PRESS RELEASE
January 2009

Ecrivus International – High quality translations in all languages!

19 November 2008: The launch of the new Ecrivus.com

Ecrivus International recently launched its new website on Ecrivus.com. The new website is jam-packed with new information about translation, proofreading, interpreting, copywriting and much more! The English version of the website has more than 400 webpages, providing visitors with all the needed information about the translation industry. Within a couple of days, Ecrivus.com had received tens of thousands of visits from all over the world!

The new Ecrivus.com offers quality content, like:

- A free translation tool
- Translation articles
- Information about all types of translation and interpreting and the differences between them
- Information about all the 210+ languages we offer
- An online quote form
- A press release archive
- Link exchange form
- World clocks displaying all time zones
- A real-time currency converter
- Global weather forecaster
- And much more!

Ecrivus in the news: an exclusive article in magazine Winmag PRO

Last month, Ecrivus appeared in the popular IT magazine Winmag PRO with an exclusive article on its website and global translation services. The article covers the wide variety of our translation and interpreting services in all languages for individuals and businesses in more than 110 countries. It also covers the many advantages of the new Ecrivus.com and how both customers and suppliers can benefit from the new content. The article is in Dutch (Winmag PRO edition 6 December 2008), but we are happy to supply you with an English translation (summary) on request.
